

AED - Automated External Defibrillation

Over 150,000 people die each year in the UK from cardiac arrest.

Automated external defibrillators (AEDs) have become the most innovative life saving technology in many years. Defibrillating the heart is now recognised as the critical action that can restart a heart and increase a casualty's chance of survival.

ARC Training has designed this Course to enable the candidate to develop the skill to use a defibrillator within a specific protocol. A4 and pocket size certificate awarded. Training pack and manual are also included.

Respite Now is a Community Interest Company, registration number SC0421677
